

AP Environmental Science Application

- The goal of the AP Environmental Science course is to provide students with the scientific principles, concepts, and methodologies required to understand the interrelationships of the natural world, to identify and analyze environmental problems both natural and man-made, to evaluate the relative risks associated with these problems, and to examine alternative solutions for resolving and/or preventing them.
- AP Environmental Science is a one semester course. It will be offered in the fall or spring, or both depending on demand. Only students who are highly motivated and diligent workers should apply.
- Students are required to take the AP exam in the spring. If students take the class in the fall semester, they are required to participate in review sessions prior to the AP exam.
- Students interested in applying for AP Environmental Science must complete this application and return it to Mr. Keen in room 2628. Signatures of both the student and the parent are required on the application to show that the applicant understands what will be required from the course.

Requirements:

1. Minimum of a “B” in biology.
2. Completion of Algebra.
3. Prior math and science teachers’ signature.

Parental Permission:

I understand that AP courses are extremely challenging and I approve of my son/daughter taking AP Environmental Science. I understand that this course meets in the fall semester and review sessions prior to the AP Exam in the spring are required. I understand that once begun this course cannot be dropped, with the exception of a documented medical necessity. I also understand that the AP exam is a requirement of enrollment and that the applicant is responsible for the entire exam fee. If the applicant is not approved for the course, a parent override form is available, but will only be allowed if spaces are not filled by approved applicants. No approved student will be removed because of parent overrides.
